Welcome

We are excited that you are attending the Johnson & Johnson Faculty Education Program, presented in collaboration with the AO Foundation.

As a valued Johnson & Johnson faculty member and clinical expert, we know you want to deliver the highest quality educational experience for your learners. This program is designed to help you engage your audience and utilize proven adult education principles regardless of whether you are presenting from a podium in front of a large group, instructing in a classroom, or teaching one-on-one in the operating room.

I wish you a very instructive course!

Yours sincerely,
